Class Description

Source Water Partners is not your average course on Source Water Protection. While the basics of Source Water Protection will be briefly overviewed to ensure all attendees are on the same page, we will focus our attention on helpful resources and assistance to make your source water protection plans and policies become more robust. These will include, what resources and services are available, funding opportunities, partners for your consideration, helpful hints and tricks and much, much more.

We will also explore more emerging issues and news for Source Water Protection in Maine and beyond.
