Responding to PFAS Contamination in Maine

For Water and Wastewater Systems across Maine

Live "Virtual" Training Sessions

2.0 Maine BLWSO TCHs
2.0 Maine DEP TCHs

Your Instructors:

Rob Bilott – Partner, Taft Law
Rob is a partner at the law firm Taft Stettinius & Hollister LLP, where he has practiced for over 30 years. Rob took on the first individual, class action, mass tort, and multi-district litigation proceedings involving PFAS, and recovered over $1 billion for clients impacted by the chemicals.

Ken Sansone – Partner, SL Environmental Law Group
Ken exclusively represents water suppliers in contamination lawsuits, including claims over PFAS and 1,2,3 trichloropropane, or "TCP." He has obtained more than $50 million in recoveries for water systems to treat TCP, a toxic contaminant from defective pesticides sold by Shell Oil and Dow Chemical.

Ashley Campbell – Attorney, SL Environmental Law Group
Ashley focuses exclusively on representing public entities in litigation concerning environmental contamination of public resources, such as water, land, natural resources, watersheds, basins and airports. Ashley is currently the lead contact for all the firm's per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) contamination cases.
